

Supply of trapezoidal cable trays from Hungarian manufacturers

Article Overview

Key Hungarian manufacturers and suppliers of cable trays include AVIUS.hu, Emtron KFT, and BazelKabel Ltd., offering modular and durable solutions for industrial and commercial installations.

AVIUS.hu

AVIUS Kft. specializes in GRP (Glass Reinforced Plastic) cable trays, which are ideal for highly corrosive environments and areas with strong electromagnetic fields. Their trays are metal-free, transparent to electromagnetic waves, and allow for long-span installations due to the high glass content. AVIUS offers both standard and custom solutions, making them suitable for specialized industrial projects .

Emtron KFT

Emtron KFT provides a comprehensive range of cable and cable tray systems for industrial and personal construction projects. They act as a BAKS distributor in Hungary, offering sales and technical support in multiple languages, including Hungarian, Korean, and English. Their experience in large-scale projects ensures professional guidance for installation and system integration .

BazelKabel Ltd.

BazelKabel Ltd. manufactures modular cable tray and ladder systems designed for organized and safe cable management in both industrial and commercial environments. Their products emphasize quick installation, long-term reliability, and modularity, making them suitable for complex electrical infrastructure projects .

Considerations for Choosing a Manufacturer

- o Material: Metal vs. GRP (corrosion resistance, electromagnetic transparency)
 - o Modularity: Ease of installation and future expansion
 - o Span and Load Capacity: Especially important for trapezoidal designs
 - o Technical Support: Availability of installation guidance and project consultation
- These Hungarian manufacturers provide a range of trapezoidal and ladder-type cable trays suitable for diverse industrial and commercial applications, ensuring both durability and compliance with electrical safety standards.

Emtron KFT has been involved in many large-scale projects with professional experience, Emtron KFT provides electrical materials
